

S E E I N G

I would be pleased to see the world purged of evil people, of those who oppose, who ridicule.

I would be pleased to see the world abounding in monasteries, raising prayers to heaven.

I would be pleased to see the world organized so as not to hurt animals, or eat them.

I would be pleased to see the world filling prayer halls, each for adherents of all religions.

I would be pleased to see the world increasing by clean water, food, and air and by universal literacy.

I would be pleased to see the world honoring a few saints and sages by concretizing their wishes.

I would be pleased to see the world strengthening national military and local police forces.

I would be pleased to see the world prospering in political, moral, and religious quiet.

I would be pleased to see the world resting and relaxed, free of itches to move and acquire.

I would be pleased to see the world cheering self-reliance, wisdom, and initiative.

I would be pleased to see the world fostering hard minds, soft hearts, and skilled hands.

I would be pleased to see the world upholding humanity with fruits, roots, leaves, and milk products.

I would be pleased to see the world laughing, dancing, and singing.

I would be pleased to see the world expanding, ever more grand.

I would be pleased to see the world being fair.

I would be pleased to see the world shining in burnished intellect, subtle, and quick.

The Rev. David R. Graham, 27DEC10

